Dear Mr. Rehman:

My associates have advised me of your recent departure from the Florida Department of Law Enforcement, and I wanted to join them in applauding all of your fine investigative efforts and in thanking you for the exemplary professional association we have enjoyed with you.

You have been an excellent partner in the fight against child sexual exploitation and on-line child pornography, particularly as one of the original members of the Mid-Atlantic Regional Child Exploitation Task Force and through your work in many Innocent Images investigations. Your outstanding knowledge of computers, as well as the techniques you developed and refined regarding undercover activity on computers, contributed immeasurably to the success of these investigations. I would also like to take this opportunity to recognize your efforts in educating parents to the potential dangers their children may encounter while exploring the Internet. I'm sure we will see significant results following the publication and distribution of "A Parent's Guide To Internet Safety," and I want to commend you for the important role you played in the development of this pamphlet.

You have earned the respect and gratitude of the many FBI Agents with whom you have worked during your tenure with the Florida Department of Law Enforcement, and I want to thank you for sharing your expertise and knowledge with them. My colleagues join me in extending appreciation and warmest best wishes to you for every happiness and continued success.

Sincerely yours,

Louis J. Freeh
Director
